12/12/2017	Psychology Summary	Gifts	Overwritten for Data Protection	£50.00	Bracelet	Giving this gift was very significant to the patient and was an expression of her deep appreciation of the help she has received from 3 years of our work together. I have explained that no gift is required but to refuse it or offer it to the department was not appropriate as it would have hurt her deeply. I intend to keep it at work and wear it as appropriate.

Patient requested that her husband give me some perfume out of her collection once she had died, with specific instructions I was to wear it on my wedding day next year.
13/07/2017	Audiology Summary	Hospitality	Cochlear	£400.00	Flights and airport transfers were booked by Cochlear to attend a training course at their head office in Addlestone.	The return flight was business class. This is likely to have been booked as there was no availability in standard class. There were no alternatives to the flight times chosen due to the start and finish times of the course. It would not have been possible to travel by train as there were no trains to reach the destination by the start time of the course. This would also have necessitated an overnight stay.
13/07/2017	Audiology Summary	Hospitality	Cochlear UK	£274.00	Travel, accommodation and meal provided for the attendance on a course.
